

SHOULD INSPECT HER HIGH SCHOOLS

Dr. E. A. Alderman, President of University, Suggests New State Office.

RELATIONS TO COLLEGE

Mission of the High School Is Discussed in Animated Manner.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., June 21.—The better correlation of the colleges and secondary schools in Virginia was the topic of animated discussion this morning at the conference of high school teachers at the University of Virginia. Nearly all the colleges of the State were represented, there being present President Alderman, of the University of Virginia; Dr. J. Gray McAllister, president of Hampden-Sydney College; Dr. George Denny, president of Washington and Lee University; Dr. E. B. Blackwell, president of Randolph-Macon College; Professor J. M. McBrayer, Jr., of Sweet Briar Institute; Professor Newman, of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and Dr. S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond College. Among the representatives of academies were Dr. Sumner Smith, principal of the Randolph-Macon Academy, at Bedford City; Hampden Wilson, headmaster of Cluster Springs Academy, and J. Carter Walker, of the Woodberry Forest School.

Divergent Views.
The conference was called to order at 10:30 this morning in Madison Hall by the president, Mr. Edgar Sydenstricker, of Lynchburg. Mr. F. B. Fitzpatrick was elected secretary of the conference.

The first speaker on the subject, "The Proper and Correct Correlation of the High School and College," was Dr. McAllister, of Hampden-Sydney College, who maintained that a high school course should prepare a boy either for college or for life; that fewer subjects should be taught, and those few made more thorough. He pointed out that the high school was looking to the college for teachers and principals.

Dr. Blackwell, of Randolph-Macon College, was of the opinion that the colleges should fix the standards and let the high schools come to them. The high school will not meet the required standard as long as the colleges go down to them.

Professor Long, of Washington and Lee, said that his institution stood ready to co-operate with the State authorities in raising the standards of high schools.

President Alderman said that the State should have a high school inspector. He also expressed the opinion that the University should liberalize the B. A. degree.

YOUNG MAN HURT.

Jump From Caboose and Lands on Head; Prominent Citizen Very Ill.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BOYDTON, Va., June 21.—John S. Field, of this place, received a letter yesterday informing him of a very serious accident which occurred to his son, Dandridge Field, of Knoxville, Tenn., this week. Young Field was coal inspector for the Southern Railroad, and on one of his trips a caboose upon which he was riding was derailed, and Mr. Field jumped from the caboose and in doing so struck his head against a stone, knocking him senseless, and in this condition he remained for some time. He is reported to be better, and hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Mr. George W. Crooks, an old and highly esteemed citizen of this place, is lying at his home in a critical condition, with but little hope of his recovery.

Judge Barksdale adjourned his court here yesterday.

PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Men Let Themselves Out of Jail by Means of Rope Made from Blankets.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
ALEXANDRIA, Va., June 21.—With an improvised rope made from blankets, George B. Cluett, sentenced to serve a term of three years in the State penitentiary, and Levi Welch, who was completing a term of ninety days, made a daring escape from the city jail at 1:30 o'clock this morning, and up to the present time they have not been captured. A reward of $100 has been offered by City Sergeant Cox for their apprehension.

Warden Chandler was soon notified by inmates of the escape. The police made a detour of the immediate vicinity, without results. Cluett is a son of a soldier, and is about twenty-three years of age. Recently he was convicted in the Corporation Court of horse-stealing, and sentenced to three years.

Welch is about forty years of age, and had served about one-third of his term.

Object to Helper's Promotion.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ROANOKE, Va., June 21.—The maulers of the Norfolk and Western machine shops went on a strike this morning on account of the foreman placing a helper at journeyman work in the wheel department. A committee interviewed the foreman, and the matter was settled satisfactorily, and the men went back to work.

Wise Talks by "the Office Boy"

Well—did you see the ad. the boss had in The Journal yesterday? I spent half a day looking through books for big words for him, and when he caught me at it, he said: "See here, boy, we are not trying to fool the people during this sale, so no more headings will be necessary. We will simply give our customers 10 per cent. off on every cash purchase of Men's and Youth's Suits, Children's Clothing, Extra Trousers, Hats and Shoes." I told him that this was an honest way of having a reduction sale, and that pleased him some. In his ad. yesterday he offered $50 reward to any one who could prove that he had raised the price or changed the tickets on any garment. We are actually making a reduction of 10 per cent. on goods mentioned, and they're great values, without getting the 10 per cent. discount. To make it worth your while to visit our store during this sale, the boss has made a great many special inducements. Here are a few of them—25c. White Ties for 10c.; Handkerchiefs, white and fancy borders, 2c. each; 10c. values; 10c. Fancy Black Hose at 5c.; Men's 10c. Suspenders, 5c., etc. Come and see to-day for real bargains.

NOTABLE TERM OF CAROLINE COURT

One Man Is Sentenced to Be Hanged—Woman Gets Twelve Years in Prison.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HOWLING GREEN, Va., June 21.—The Circuit Court adjourned this evening, after a term of two weeks, which was taken up mostly in the trial of criminal cases.

John Taylor, colored, was found guilty of murder in the first degree of Jennifer Coleman, colored, and he was sentenced to be hanged on the 13th of September. R. G. Moncure, his attorney, who defended him, will appeal the case.

Jennie Flood, colored, who aided and abetted Taylor in the murder, was tried separately and found guilty of murder in the second degree, and given twelve years in the penitentiary.

Later in the session, colored, was given one day in jail for an assault upon Andrew Pitts, white.

A case against Frank Taylor, for violating the revenue laws by selling "Cooper's Tonic," resulted in a hung jury. This case was hotly contested, and the prosecution of the preparation being present and testifying.

It was claimed by the prosecution that the tonic was largely composed of alcohol, and was taken by consumers for the alcoholic effects.

The defense, represented by Chandler, denied this, saying that only 17 per cent. of the ingredients was alcohol, and that this was used solely as a preservative. The case is set for the October term of the court, and if a conviction is ever reached a new interest is added to the case by the fact that practically every merchant in Carolina has been hawking the tonic, and will have to share the penalty of Taylor.

The last case was against Taylor Grayson, colored, indicted for burning the barn of C. L. Mothershead, near Courtland, resulting in a hung jury for conviction and three for acquittal. This is the longest term of any Circuit Court Judge Mason has ever held.

TERRELL NOT FOUND.

Large Party Searching for Missing Man. Report of Finding Him Utrunc.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
FREDERICKS, Va., June 21.—Will Terrell, who mysteriously disappeared from his home on the 1st of June has not yet been heard from. The report of his dead body being found in an outhouse in Louisiana is untrue. His whereabouts remains a mystery. A party of thirty-five or forty men are scouring the country in search of him. Up to this writing no clue has been found as to his whereabouts or cause for his disappearance.

An aged mother, wife and three small children bemoan his absence.

Mr. Terrell has been for some time connected with Mr. Chastine Jones, of Beaver Dam, in the saw-mill business.

PRESIDENT AND FOURTH VICE-PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL TRAVELERS ASSOCIATION

MR. W. R. JOHNSON, for second time head of great T. P. A. organization.

TRAVELERS FINISH WORK AND GO HOME

It Was 5:30 A. M. When Body Adjourned, Having Sat All Night.

OFFICES TO VIRGINIANS

Old State Gets Presidency, Vice-Presidency, Director and Committee Chairman.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., June 21.—All was quiet in Travelers' Protective Association circles to-day after the stormy meeting of the convention in Armory Hall early this morning. No sign of excitement or anything other than good fellowship appeared in the ranks of the delegates to the convention.

The convention, which was called to order at 9 o'clock last night, did not adjourn until 5:30 o'clock this morning. The election of officers was perhaps the most exciting ever held in a national convention of the T. P. A.

The work of the convention being finished this morning with the adjournment, there was no occasion for a meeting to-day, and by to-night most of the delegates had left for their homes. The association will meet next year in Milwaukee.

Association Officers.

The following is the complete list of officers:

President—W. R. Johnson, Knoxville, Tenn.

First Vice-President—Herbert Russ, Philadelphia.

Second Vice-President—John Guise, Natchez, Miss.

Third Vice-President—Harry T. Moore, San Francisco.

Fourth Vice-President—Thomas Poinexter, Richmond, Va.

Fifth Vice-President—Aea Lemine, New York.

Secretary-Treasurer—Louis T. La-beance, St. Louis.

Chaplain—Rev. Homer T. Wilson, San Antonio, Tex.

Directors—George W. Smith and Fred R. Schlarach, St. Louis; John T. Rock, Waterloo, Iowa; Henry Ormsby Gray, Louisville, Ky.; E. R. Barksdale, Portsmouth, Va., two years each; F. M. Pollock, Bloomington, Ill.; Major Drew, South Carolina, and William Fisher, St. Louis, one year each.

Will P. Jackson, St. Louis, and C. W. Cluett, Omaha, Neb., are holdover directors.

Committee Chairmen.

Chairman legislative committee—John S. Harwood, Richmond, Va.

Chairman railroad committee—F. W. Crandall, St. Louis.

Chairman police committee—F. H. McIntyre, Philadelphia.

Chairman hotel committee—Max Banner, Columbus, Ga.

Chairman employment committee—George W. Church, Milwaukee.

W. R. Johnson, for president, received 114 votes, defeating Thad H. Howe, of Chicago, incumbent, by a majority of 5.

The national directors will meet in St. Louis July 6th for reorganization.

An interesting fact is the extent to which Virginia is represented in the official control of the national organization.

The president, Mr. Johnson, has his residence in Knoxville, but for years was a resident of Lynchburg and is a native of Virginia. The fourth vice-president, Mr. Poinexter, one of the directors, Mr. Barksdale, and Colonel Harwood, chairman of the very important legislative committee, are all Virginians.

ASSAIL JAMES WILL.

Suit Brought by Thomson and Sister This Time in Norfolk Court.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., June 21.—W. E. Thomson and his sister, Miss Virginia Thomson, to-day entered suit in the Circuit Court of Norfolk city to break the will of the late E. W. James, who bequeathed property valued at $250,000 to the University of Virginia and to other institutions, cutting off the Thomasons, his nearest kin. Suit was first brought in the Circuit Court of Richmond, but was dismissed by Judge Scott for want of jurisdiction.

Among the defendants in the suit are the Norfolk Bank for Savings and Trust, as executor, the rector and trustees of the University of Virginia and R. E. Lee Camp, at Richmond.

DISCHARGE SALOONKEEPER.

First of Series of Prosecutions of Norfolk County Liquor Dealers Falls.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., June 21.—B. S. Long, a saloon proprietor of Norfolk county, charged with violation of the liquor law by keeping his saloon open on Sunday, was dismissed in Justice R. P. Huntington's court to-night.

The arrest of Long and seven others grew out of a tour of inspection by Justice Robertson. The charges against the others will be heard later.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE BECAUSE GIRL WEDS

Mrs. Nannie L. Booth, of Danville, Drinks Laudanum When She Hears of Elopement.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

DANVILLE, Va., June 21.—Mrs. Nannie L. Booth, who drank laudanum yesterday afternoon in an attempt to commit suicide because her daughter ran away and married against her wishes, is in a critical condition.

The young woman is now a prisoner at her mother's home, and all efforts by her husband to see her since the marriage have proved futile. Miss Mary Booth and E. K. Broadus, a young man who has for several years been a boarder at the Booth home, eloped yesterday, and were married. When they broke the tidings to Mrs. Booth she flew into a rage and immediately locked her daughter in a basement room and then drove her new son-in-law off by threats of physical violence. Later in the day she drank poison, and was discovered by one of her elder daughters in an unconscious condition.

The young husband claims that his wife is being held a prisoner against his and her wishes, and will institute civil proceedings to regain her. The mother of the bride declares that she is only sixteen years of age, while Broadus says his wife is twenty-one.

Vain Search for Marshall's Body.

HOWARDSVILLE, Va., June 21.—The body of W. E. Marshall, who was drowned here Tuesday, has not yet been found, though a diligent search of four days has been made. Mr. McComb, president of the Roanoke Bridge Company, in whose employ Mr. Marshall had been for the past seven years, arrived Wednesday to see that every effort was made to locate the body, and has offered a reward for its recovery. Mr. Marshall's father and brother-in-law, of Mount Jackson, are here also to assist in the search.

Newspaper Tributes.

On the demise of the late Henry Clay Payne, a concern in New York gathered from the papers published throughout the United States 4,885 newspaper stories of the life and career of the deceased.

These items were carefully mounted on Irish linen leaves and bound in six volumes, 400 pages to the book. A cover of genuine seal was appropriately lettered in gold and the entire material, representing the work of many people for several months, has just been delivered to Mrs. Payne at Milwaukee.

Mr. Burrelle, who makes a specialty of this unique method of preserving family history, also compiled four volumes containing the letters, telegrams and cards of condolence received by the family, all constituting a family heirloom that will be handed down to future generations.

This work is one of the several developments of the press clipping industry, and Mr. Burrelle has made a special study of the work he created several years ago.

DIOPS DEAD IN STORE.

Joseph, Hatterman, Eccentric Old Man of Highland, Passes Away.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

MONTREY, Va., June 21.—Joseph Hatterman, aged eighty-nine years, fell dead at Franklin Wednesday, whether he had gone on a trading expedition. He had been in the village about an hour, was entering a store, and fell dead at the threshold.

Mr. Hatterman, or "Uncle Joe," as he was called, was a peculiar and eccentric old Dutchman, but a most successful and independent farmer. His little plantation, on which he lived and made a snug fortune, was situated in the foothills, eight miles north of Monterey. While not strictly a miser, he loved and hoarded every shilling, selling all his stock and farm products for cash and spending but little. He gave the savings banks no patronage, and loaned but little money. In a little drawer, securely locked, he kept an ample roll of bank notes, and his holdings of gold and silver coin filled a shot-bag more than half full. He boasted that no one had ever asked him for money, because he never owed a penny. Since reaching the age at which he was too old to do the work on his property, he had been strictly confined to an "old folks' contract" with not less than three different parties, and becoming dissatisfied in each case, paid sums aggregating nearly $2,000 to get rid of them.

Until recently he was strong and vigorous in mind and body, but a quickening and snap of step and speech which made him interesting.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., June 21.—Cadet Ramon, who was drowned from the revenue cutter Chase while on duty, passed away in the cases on Saturday last, died from fright, is the opinion expressed by Dr. W. C. Rucker, P. H. and M. S., stationed at the Norfolk Barracks.

Dr. Rucker said that from what an eyewitness to the drowning had told him, he was convinced that the unfortunate young man could have saved himself had he not been so badly frightened.
